

YOUNG LEADERS PROGRAM for Emerging Leaders

A unique job-embedded training providing immediate self-confidence and people management skills

Identify unique personality strengths

Increase personal and team performance

Communicate effectively with confidence

Lead with confidence, increase critical thinking and solve problems efficiently

Guiding people through uncertainty and leading virtually has become standard in new work practices, but can be challenging for young managers and emerging leaders. More than ever, the ability to stay focused combined with high Emotional Intelligence and flexibility are essential to keep teams cohesive, engaged, and motivated.

The goal of our Young Leaders Program is to develop these skills that build the foundations of effective leadership. In this digital format, emerging leaders will put in practice models and methods used with their coach, experience key insights from their peers, and will be able to immediately transfer knowledge into their work.
